About us

A secure home and a seat at the table for all London's social housing communities

We bring together social housing tenant organisations from across the capital to act on matters that affect our homes and communities.

We have strength in numbers. Together we have successfully advocated for ballots on estate regeneration schemes in London and for the Mayor to set up the new London Housing Panel for voluntary and community organisations to influence London's housing policy.

Our objectives and priorities are set by our members: borough- and landlord-wide tenant and leaseholder organisations from across London. We work in close partnership with the London Federation of Housing Co-ops and the National Federation of Tenant Management Organisations.
